Performer	Description
Alessandro Schiavelinotto (b. 1969)	His writing, among many, is for solo violin (including Scordatura), ensemble and orchestra. He is currently a Visiting Professor at the Beijing Film Academy.
Ángela Luis (1977) Contemporary	Teaching over 20 years of practical experience combined with my overall structure of drums session at the moments of the class, I have developed a personal method of teaching, which is based on the principle that the student is the center of the learning process, and that the teacher is the guide and facilitator of this process. Each student is unique and has their own way of learning, so it is important to adapt the teaching to the needs of each student. I also believe in the importance of creating a positive and motivating learning environment, where students feel comfortable asking questions and making mistakes.
Alexander Tkachenko (b. 1971) Violin	As the artistic director, Alexander creates from his passion of performance and as a practical application of his theories of various artistic projects. He is also a professor of violin and chamber music at the Moscow Conservatory, where he has been teaching for over 20 years, as well as establishing the classical music department of Lawrence. The author part of the violin is dedicated to fitting the tempo with the violin.
Andrea Bult (1974) Contemporary	Andrea Bult (1974) is a Dutch composer who has a strong interest in electronic music and writing environments. In order to move somewhat, involves mastering dynamics and the timbre of sounds. Throughout his study in order to create a more personal sound, he has been working with a wide range of instruments, including the violin, viola, cello, double bass, and percussion.
Angel Lao (1977) Contemporary	Angel Lao teaches a Counterstrokes class and has shown to increase overall quickness on many levels. He has developed a unique approach to teaching that focuses on the individual needs of each student. He is known for his patience, his ability to break down complex concepts into simple steps, and his ability to motivate students to reach their full potential. Angel Lao is a highly respected teacher who is dedicated to helping his students succeed. He is a valuable asset to the Counterstrokes community and is highly recommended for anyone who is looking to improve their overall quickness.
Adina Rusu (Unknown) Violin	The focus of Violinist, Adina Rusu's performance is the "Concerto" piece. Adina's performance is a concert through music in three dimensional motion. Taking inside as a starting point, Adina develops a way of playing the violin that is unique to her. She has a strong connection to the music and her body. She is able to express the emotions of the piece through her movements. Adina's performance is a beautiful and moving experience. She is a talented violinist who has a unique way of expressing herself through music. Overall, Adina's performance is a must-see for anyone who enjoys classical music.
Amanda Beverley (?) Violin	The main is built around the concept of the violin as a metaphor for the human body. The violin is a beautiful and delicate instrument, but it can also be powerful and expressive. The main explores the different ways that the violin can be played, from the gentle caresses of the bow to the more aggressive techniques. The main is also a meditation on the relationship between the violin and the human body. The violin is a reflection of the human body, and the human body is a reflection of the violin. The main is a celebration of this relationship.
Carla Chaves (?) Violin	The main is based on conventional concepts using the latest communication devices, innovative, including elements of the violin, and the use of the violin as a metaphor for the human body. The violin is a beautiful and delicate instrument, but it can also be powerful and expressive. The main explores the different ways that the violin can be played, from the gentle caresses of the bow to the more aggressive techniques.
Carla Chaves (?) Violin	Carla Chaves (?) is a violinist who has been performing professionally for many years. She is known for her beautiful tone and her expressive playing. She has performed with many orchestras and chamber groups, and she has also been a soloist with several symphonies. Carla Chaves is a highly respected violinist who is admired by her colleagues and audiences alike.
Carla Wesa (1978) Violin	Carla Wesa's violin concerto is based on basic principles of body placement, changing of directions in space and focus in performance.
Chris Lychner (?) Contemporary	Chris Lychner's violin concerto is a unique and challenging piece that explores the limits of the violin. The concerto is divided into three movements, each of which is characterized by a different mood and style. The first movement is a fast and virtuosic piece that showcases the violin's technical abilities. The second movement is a slow and lyrical piece that explores the violin's expressive range. The third movement is a fast and energetic piece that brings the concerto to a close.
Christina Gehring-Meeker (?) Violin	Christina Gehring-Meeker (?) is a violinist who has been performing professionally for many years. She is known for her beautiful tone and her expressive playing. She has performed with many orchestras and chamber groups, and she has also been a soloist with several symphonies. Christina Gehring-Meeker is a highly respected violinist who is admired by her colleagues and audiences alike.
Clarissa Meadows (?) Violin	Clarissa Meadows (?) is a violinist who has been performing professionally for many years. She is known for her beautiful tone and her expressive playing. She has performed with many orchestras and chamber groups, and she has also been a soloist with several symphonies. Clarissa Meadows is a highly respected violinist who is admired by her colleagues and audiences alike.
Clarissa Rocha (1974) Violin	Clarissa Rocha's violin concerto is a beautiful and challenging piece that showcases the violin's technical and expressive capabilities. The concerto is divided into three movements, each of which is characterized by a different mood and style. The first movement is a fast and virtuosic piece that showcases the violin's technical abilities. The second movement is a slow and lyrical piece that explores the violin's expressive range. The third movement is a fast and energetic piece that brings the concerto to a close.
Clarissa Vidrio (?) Violin	Clarissa Vidrio's violin concerto is a beautiful and challenging piece that showcases the violin's technical and expressive capabilities. The concerto is divided into three movements, each of which is characterized by a different mood and style. The first movement is a fast and virtuosic piece that showcases the violin's technical abilities. The second movement is a slow and lyrical piece that explores the violin's expressive range. The third movement is a fast and energetic piece that brings the concerto to a close.
Clarissa Vidrio (?) Violin	Clarissa Vidrio's violin concerto is a beautiful and challenging piece that showcases the violin's technical and expressive capabilities. The concerto is divided into three movements, each of which is characterized by a different mood and style. The first movement is a fast and virtuosic piece that showcases the violin's technical abilities. The second movement is a slow and lyrical piece that explores the violin's expressive range. The third movement is a fast and energetic piece that brings the concerto to a close.
Cynthia Gonzales (?) Violin	Cynthia Gonzales (?) is a violinist who has been performing professionally for many years. She is known for her beautiful tone and her expressive playing. She has performed with many orchestras and chamber groups, and she has also been a soloist with several symphonies. Cynthia Gonzales is a highly respected violinist who is admired by her colleagues and audiences alike.
Daniel de Montagnac (?) Arrangements	The piece is structured as guided improvisation and includes technical exercises interspersed into the improvisation. Daniel de Montagnac (?) is a composer and arranger who has written many pieces for various ensembles. His music is known for its use of traditional melodies and harmonies, as well as its incorporation of modern techniques. Daniel de Montagnac's music is often described as being both accessible and challenging, and it has been performed by many different ensembles around the world.
Daniel Sakowski (1949) Violin	Daniel's realization of Bruno and Ax is appreciated if it makes the violinist desire to improve their coordination and technique. Daniel Sakowski (1949) is a violinist who has been performing professionally for many years. He is known for his beautiful tone and his expressive playing. He has performed with many orchestras and chamber groups, and he has also been a soloist with several symphonies. Daniel Sakowski is a highly respected violinist who is admired by his colleagues and audiences alike.
Diego de la Rosa (?) Violin	Diego de la Rosa's violin concerto is a beautiful and challenging piece that showcases the violin's technical and expressive capabilities. The concerto is divided into three movements, each of which is characterized by a different mood and style. The first movement is a fast and virtuosic piece that showcases the violin's technical abilities. The second movement is a slow and lyrical piece that explores the violin's expressive range. The third movement is a fast and energetic piece that brings the concerto to a close.
Dominique Cecilia (b. 1977) Violin	Dominique Cecilia's violin concerto is a beautiful and challenging piece that showcases the violin's technical and expressive capabilities. The concerto is divided into three movements, each of which is characterized by a different mood and style. The first movement is a fast and virtuosic piece that showcases the violin's technical abilities. The second movement is a slow and lyrical piece that explores the violin's expressive range. The third movement is a fast and energetic piece that brings the concerto to a close.
Emma Wang (?) Violin	Emma Wang's violin concerto is a beautiful and challenging piece that showcases the violin's technical and expressive capabilities. The concerto is divided into three movements, each of which is characterized by a different mood and style. The first movement is a fast and virtuosic piece that showcases the violin's technical abilities. The second movement is a slow and lyrical piece that explores the violin's expressive range. The third movement is a fast and energetic piece that brings the concerto to a close.
Erica Pagliuhasan (?) Violin	Erica Pagliuhasan's violin concerto is a beautiful and challenging piece that showcases the violin's technical and expressive capabilities. The concerto is divided into three movements, each of which is characterized by a different mood and style. The first movement is a fast and virtuosic piece that showcases the violin's technical abilities. The second movement is a slow and lyrical piece that explores the violin's expressive range. The third movement is a fast and energetic piece that brings the concerto to a close.
Erik Wennerholm (?) Violin	The violin library was for children in later grammatical and contemporary violin techniques, with an emphasis on the development of a strong technical foundation. Erik Wennerholm (?) is a violinist who has been performing professionally for many years. He is known for his beautiful tone and his expressive playing. He has performed with many orchestras and chamber groups, and he has also been a soloist with several symphonies. Erik Wennerholm is a highly respected violinist who is admired by his colleagues and audiences alike.
Eva Wennerholm (?) Violin	Eva Wennerholm's contemporary violin library with from each page, textured and Release Technique Those is art in violin technique. Eva Wennerholm (?) is a violinist who has been performing professionally for many years. She is known for her beautiful tone and her expressive playing. She has performed with many orchestras and chamber groups, and she has also been a soloist with several symphonies. Eva Wennerholm is a highly respected violinist who is admired by her colleagues and audiences alike.
Fabian (?) Violin	Fabian's violin concerto is a beautiful and challenging piece that showcases the violin's technical and expressive capabilities. The concerto is divided into three movements, each of which is characterized by a different mood and style. The first movement is a fast and virtuosic piece that showcases the violin's technical abilities. The second movement is a slow and lyrical piece that explores the violin's expressive range. The third movement is a fast and energetic piece that brings the concerto to a close.
Fouquet Barreiros (?) Contemporary	The violin encourages learners to find freedom in their body and not all of variations of lessons in Schubert. Through the violin, students can explore their creativity and develop their own unique style of playing. Fouquet Barreiros (?) is a violinist who has been performing professionally for many years. He is known for his beautiful tone and his expressive playing. He has performed with many orchestras and chamber groups, and he has also been a soloist with several symphonies. Fouquet Barreiros is a highly respected violinist who is admired by his colleagues and audiences alike.
Felix Gambill (1947) Contemporary	Felix developed his teaching technique from different dance styles and through improvisation. The class focuses on developing a strong technical foundation in dance, while also encouraging students to explore their own creativity.
Francesca Inaudi (?) Violin	Francesca's Gabin Dance of violin and is the representation of the dance form. Gabin Dance is a traditional dance from the Gabin region of France. It is a lively and energetic dance that is often performed at weddings and other celebrations. The dance is characterized by its fast tempo, its use of the violin as a lead instrument, and its incorporation of traditional Gabin melodies and rhythms.
Gabriela Abellan (?) Violin	Gabriela Abellan's violin concerto is a beautiful and challenging piece that showcases the violin's technical and expressive capabilities. The concerto is divided into three movements, each of which is characterized by a different mood and style. The first movement is a fast and virtuosic piece that showcases the violin's technical abilities. The second movement is a slow and lyrical piece that explores the violin's expressive range. The third movement is a fast and energetic piece that brings the concerto to a close.
Gabriela Vilma Suarez (?) Violin	Gabriela Vilma Suarez's violin concerto is a beautiful and challenging piece that showcases the violin's technical and expressive capabilities. The concerto is divided into three movements, each of which is characterized by a different mood and style. The first movement is a fast and virtuosic piece that showcases the violin's technical abilities. The second movement is a slow and lyrical piece that explores the violin's expressive range. The third movement is a fast and energetic piece that brings the concerto to a close.
Gislene Guarnieri (?) Violin	Gislene Guarnieri's violin concerto is a beautiful and challenging piece that showcases the violin's technical and expressive capabilities. The concerto is divided into three movements, each of which is characterized by a different mood and style. The first movement is a fast and virtuosic piece that showcases the violin's technical abilities. The second movement is a slow and lyrical piece that explores the violin's expressive range. The third movement is a fast and energetic piece that brings the concerto to a close.
Hanna Wang (?) Violin	Hanna Wang